GRADYVILLE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Under somewhat frowning skies that dropped slight effusions of rain and sleet, a small percentage of teachers from the magisterial districts, met at the hospitable town of Gradyville, on Saturday, October 12. The Baptist brethren of that place kindly opened the doors of their church for the more comfortable housing of the Association, and after some 20 minutes of enjoyable music, the Association was called to order by the chairman, Mr. John Pickett.

Brother Robert Keltner led in prayer after which Miss Celeste Shirley gave the address of welcome, the response to which was, in the absence of Mr. R. L. Campbell, begun by Tobias Huffaker and finished by him after Mr. Campbell's arrival. Noon being arrived, the Association adjourned for dinner. At 1 o'clock the work of the program was taken up, and Tobias Huffaker discussed Grammar, its importance and how to teach it. Mrs. Shirley and R. L. Campbell also spoke on the same topic. History—how to make it interesting, was well represented by Miss Corinne Dowell, John Pickett, Mrs. Shirley and others. Miss Pearl Hindman read a splendid paper on the value of Literature in self culture. The question, should third class certificates be abolished? was ably discussed by J. A. Caldwell, Rhue Squires and others, but was not definitely settled. J. A. Caldwell gave an excellent short talk on how to cultivate the power of observation. The subject of Reviews was briefly but well treated by Miss Bertha Hamilton and Miss Celeste Shirley. A few words on discipline was spoken by J. A. Caldwell, and Tobias Huffaker in the absence of the program speakers. Mrs. Shirley closed the discussions of the program with an excellent paper on the teacher as a moulder of moral character. Supplemented by a few well-timed remarks by R. L. Campbell.

The discussions of the program were varied and enlivened at intervals by delightful recitations rendered by Misses Lethia Wilmore, Nell Hindman, Mabel Hindman and Celeste Shirley, and a song rendered by Miss Mary Wilmore. These recitations and the song were all splendidly rendered, and were much appreciated by the audience. The dinner was superb; most of the teachers bringing their dinner with them, but several of the kind, hospitable people of Gradyville showed their appreciation of the Teachers' Association, by bringing sumptuous and bountiful refreshments with them, and inviting all to share. The Association was a success, though the attendance was not specially large. What was lacking in quantity was made up in quality. TOBIAS HUFFAKER Sec., of Association.

revenue only," their every impost would operate as a protective tariff in the case of products the like of which is grown or manufactured in this country. There has never been a time since the existence of this contention between these two parties when a tax on articles of commerce not produced in this country would have given sufficient revenue to support the Federal Government; and now, since we have acquired the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines and Porto Rico, and are actually producing everything that is made or that grows under the sun, a tariff that will not act as a protective tariff is simply impossible.

Having made this evident to every thoughtful person who heard the address, I undertook to show why a revision of the tariff is desirable. In doing so, I recited some facts relative to certain imposts devised by the Colonial Council in a British colony showing how, the members of the Council being wealthy proprietors of sugar estates and the like, they imposed duties which enriched the aristocracy and impoverished the peasantry. I stated that there are tariff laws in this country which operate in the same way, and added that it is a hopeful sign of betterment when distinguished men in both the great parties seem anxious to revise the tariff.

The main object of my discourse was to advocate a wholesome independence of party between on the part of voters, that competent men may be chosen for office who shall be able to cope with the real problems that confront us.

Yours truly, W. K. AZBILL.

After razing the old dwelling of N. M. Tutt's, a breastpin, which is the property of Mrs. Mary Cravens, mother of Mr. M. Cravens, was found. Thirty-five years ago Mr. M. H. Rhorer, resided in the property, and one day his son, Lynn, at that time about three years old, was given the pin to quiet him. He pushed it through a crack in the floor, and it could not be found. It is a fine piece of old, containing a carbunkle set, and is in a perfect state of preservation. Mr. Cravens will send it to his mother, who is at Middlesboro.

Last Monday was the first day of the Russell circuit court. A very large crowd was at Jamestown, and the merchants were busy from early in the morning until late in the afternoon. Judge Baker convened court about 10:30 and by the dinner hour the grand jury had received its instructions. The afternoon was taken up by speakers representing the two political parties. There was some stock on the market but very little changed hands.

Mr. J. W. Flowers, of this place, has purchased of G. Murrell Middleton, of Shelbyville, an extra fine Berkshire sow which won first money at the Illinois State Fair this year. Her name is Lord Lee Gen VI. Her sire is the famous champion, Lord Lee. A great many called to see this animal last Friday, pronouncing her the best sow in all this country. Mr. Flowers paid a fancy price for her.

"Uncle" Jim Morrison, of Green county, born and reared in Adair, was here to attend court recently. He is 92 years old, and this year he raised a good crop of tobacco and a fine crop of corn, doing the work himself. He is in fine health, and many believe that he will live to be one hundred years old. He had three sisters and two brothers, all of whom lived to be ninety odd years of age.

Mr. Logan Sherrill, son of Arch Sherrill, who removed from Adair county to Texas, a few years ago, died near Quana, recently. He was about thirty-five years old and was a victim of consumption.

A GAS WELL.

A Strong Flow Struck in Columbia at the Depth of 175 Feet.

ON THE PROPERTY OF N. M. TUTT.

Gas at the depth of 175 feet has been struck on the Tutt addition in this place, the fact creating considerable excitement, last Saturday evening and during the day Sunday. Mr. Tutt was having a well bored for water in the South end of town, and for several days there have been strong indications of gas. Last Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock, a pipe one inch in diameter was stuck in the ground, the upper end being about twelve feet from the earth. The gas was set on fire, and during the whole night and most of Sunday, a blaze five or six feet long gushed from the pipe. Many citizens visited the scene, and it was generally conceded that gas in great quantities could be found "on the hill."

Mr. Tutt will give the present well a thorough test, and if he has struck a sufficient flow he will pipe it to his residence, using it for lights and fuel.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

Mr. J. R. Durham, of Campbellsville, brother of Mr. R. H. Durham, of this place, was struck in the head and seriously hurt at the canning factory a few days ago. The lick was struck from behind, as we are informed, by William Burress, who interfered in a quarrel that was in progress between his brother, John Burress, and Mr. Durham. Mr. Durham was badly hurt, and has been confined to his bed since. The two Burresses were arrested, but they waived an examination, and were held in the sum of $250 each.

The rock crusher is now in operation and is being managed by Mr. J. V. White. At a meeting of the municipal board Thursday night an order was made to put rock on the street leading from Campbellsville pike as far out as Mrs. Mollie Hudson's gate.

WITHOUT A PARALLEL

For Inaccuracy, Misrepresentation and Deception, Are the Campaign Utterances of Former Governor Bradley.

Thus Says Governor Beckham In Notable Speech at Stanton.

The Democratic Chief Executive Does Not Mince Words In Dealing With His Predecessor.

Says His Charges Are as Reckless and Untruthful as In 1895 Campaign.

Tells Why Bradley Won't Discuss Goebel Assassination.

Stanton, Ky., Oct. 10.—Declaring that the Republican state campaign is based upon falsehood and deception, and that its chief exponent upon the stump, former Governor W. O. Bradley, is guilty in his speeches of perversion of records and distortion of facts in a vain effort to cover up the weakness of his cause, Governor Beckham in a speech to the voters here today handled his predecessor without gloves, not mincing words in answering the charges which Bradley is making. He denounced Bradley's utterances as "without a parallel for inaccuracy, misrepresentation and deception."

Charges Completely Riddled.

Taking up the statements and charges made by the former governor, the present chief executive riddled them completely, showing in detail wherein they are either childish or deliberate misrepresentations, and that the Republican method of peddling slanders, forgeries and falsehoods to be for the purpose, if possible, to divert the minds of the voters from the real facts. He charged the ex-governor with being the man most responsible for the temporary reign of the fugitive Taylor, and declared that Bradley might have averted the great calamity, the assassination of William Goebel, who once did him a great favor, if he had communicated to him instead of to those later charged with complicity in that monstrous crime, the fact that his life was being threatened by men brought to Frankfort by Taylor, Powers and others.

J. C. W. BECKHAM.

The Governor's Great Speech.

The speech of Governor Beckham, dealing with the charges of former Governor Bradley, and refuting them, is as follows:

In his carefully prepared speech at Princeton on Sept. 24th, which was printed in the newspapers, and in his subsequent speeches, Governor Bradley shows the utter weakness of the Republican cause in this campaign, and in direct contradicts their inability to meet the real issues of it. With a lame and futile satire he seeks to ridicule what he cannot answer. He is aware many of the most important questions in the campaign, and by artful and ingenious deceptions undertakes to confuse the minds of the voters. He does not hesitate to disregard facts, pervert records and distort figures in his vain effort to cover up the weakness of his cause. I shall show before I get through with him that he has not only stated things which were untrue, but which he should have known to be untrue. His utterances in this campaign are as reckless and as untruthful as they were in the campaign of 1895, when, with false charges and promises, he deceived the people of Kentucky into electing him governor. In that campaign he slanderously charged the Democratic administration of the state with fraud and corruption, and promised to the people that if elected governor and his party placed in power when they could "get a look at the books," they would show up this fraud and corruption. For over four years he and his party had control of the state government and of the public records, and I repeat that they have never to this day reported the discovery of a single act of fraud or corruption upon the part of previous Democratic administrations.

Pitiful and Childish.

But how does the distinguished ex-governor, when confronted with this answer to his charges in that campaign, seek to escape it? In his speech he says: "In 1896, when the Republicans went into office, there was not enough money in the treasury to pay an expert bookkeeper to look at the books on account of Democratic indebtedness." This is so pitiful and childish that no intelligent citizen will let him off with such an excuse. He had under his own appointment as state inspector and examiner, drawing $3,000 a year and expenses, with the right to employ assistants, whose duty it was, under the direction of the governor, to make such investigations of the books. Why doesn't Governor Bradley own up like a man and confess to the truth that they did make this investigation into the books and utterly failed to find anything wrong? His reference to the Tate matter is of no credit to him or to his party, because that defalcation was discovered and exposed by a Democratic administration, and they themselves found to make good the loss to the state by Democratic officials before Bradley came into office. The promises which he and his party made in that campaign were equally as false and insincere as were the charges.

Every intelligent citizen in Kentucky knows that the administration of the state under Bradley and Taylor, from January, 1896, to February, 1900, was full of mismanagement, disaster and crime. It came into power under false pretenses and it went out of power in a carnival of lawlessness and assassination. Mr. Willson, the Republican candidate for governor whose chief spokesman Governor Bradley is, must stand upon that record of his party, and cannot expect to deceive the people again in this campaign as they did in 1895. The attempt of Governor Bradley in this speech to account for the grievous mismanagement of our finances during their administration is so weak and so poor that it deserves hardly any mention at all. In his printed speech there are three long columns taken up with a jumbled mass of figures, so arranged as to confuse rather than to illuminate the subject. An expert accountant could not reach any intelligent conclusion from such an arrangement, and it is clear that Governor Bradley himself was lost in the statistical mass of his own figures. He cannot repudiate his responsibility for Taylor and Taylor's administration. No man was more responsible for Taylor's temporary power than Bradley was; he was chief counsel and adviser while Taylor was acting governor. He was in Frankfort all the time and was Taylor's leading attorney in the contest cases. His own administration was bad enough, but he and his party cannot escape the added evil of Taylor's administration. Even if we should grant his request to hold them responsible only to the end of his administration in January, 1900, the comparison with Democratic administration would be altogether in our favor.

Charge Fails to Ground.

He states that while Taylor was governor there was a dual government in the state, and that the Democrats as well as the Republicans were expending the state's money. That is not true. I was sworn in as governor on February 23d. The other Democratic officials were not sworn in until February 26th, and it was long after that before we paid out a cent of the state's money. So his charge that we were responsible for any of the reckless expenditures under Taylor falls to the ground. It is not supported by the records or facts, and nobody knows better than Governor Bradley the truth about it. He knows, too, that the Democratic administration afterward had to pay off the greater part of the expenditures for Taylor's lawless soldiery as well as their debts incurred during that disastrous administration. According to his figures the state was in debt above its assets when he assumed office, $121,488. If we take his figures—and no one will believe that he has understated the amount—the records show that they left the financial affairs of the state infinitely worse than they found them, notwithstanding that his administration increased the tax rate from 42½ cents to 52½ cents on $100, and doubled the bonded debt of the state by borrowing $500,000. The records show that when the Democrats took charge in February, 1900, the state was in debt above its assets $1,696,657.36, and according to his own figures it shows that they left the state with a debt of $277,659.36 larger than the debt which he says existed when he came into office. These are the cold, plain facts, from which he can escape; which are clear to the simplest mind, and which he tries to dodge by printing three newspaper columns of inaccuracy figures to confuse the minds of the voters.

He states that the Democratic administration has wiped out the entire debt of the state which it found at the conclusion of the Republican administration, and yet he states, in this printed speech, that "the state is now in debt," and further he says, "If the present administration has increased the taxes for general purposes, increased the value of property and still increases our debts, it will, if continued in office, land Kentucky in Hell eventually."

Why should the distinguished ex-governor deliberately make a statement that he and every other intelligent citizen in Kentucky knows to be untrue? Doesn't a subtle mind like this importance deserve fair and honest treatment? Have not the people at least a right to expect that a man who had once held the exalted office of governor should tell the truth about these things? Doesn't he give our people credit for more intelligence than to think it possible for him and the other Republican candidates to deceive them, like he and Mr. Willson deceived them in 1895?

State Entirely Out of Debt.

Not only is the state entirely out of debt, but with all of the money that the administration has expended for its public institutions, its schools, colleges and its new capitol and other worthy improvements, we will have in our treasury at the close of this administration the first net January the splendid surplus of $1,250,000. I know that a superb showing like this is discomforting to Governor Bradley and the other Republican candidates. They cannot answer it. They cannot by a single word of figures escape it. But it certainly does not justify them in deliberate misrepresentations and the peddling of slanders, forgeries and falsehoods to divert, if possible, the minds of the people from the real facts.

He states in his speech that this administration had only appropriated $1,987,789.21, while we state that a larger amount has been appropriated for worthy purposes. If the gentleman will look on Page 21 of the Democratic campaign hand-book, a copy of which I presume he has, he will find a list of 18 items showing for what purposes such appropriations were made, amounting to $2,701,082.07, all of which will have been paid by the close of this administration and yet leave a surplus in the treasury as above stated. This list is taken from the records, and it will be easy for him to verify it if he wants to know the truth about it. He says in his speech, "the Republican administration was not only economical; did not only pay off Democratic indebtedness, but it did many other worthy things."

In Conflict With the Truth.

In the light of the facts which I have stated and which cannot be disputed, I submit to the intelligent voters this marvelous statement of the ex-governor. Of the "many worthy things" accomplished during his administration the only thing that he attempts to show is the establishment of the House of Reform. I shall quote his exact words about that wonderful achievement, for which he claims credit, and then quote Section 253 of the constitution of the state, and let the voters pass an opinion for themselves upon the veracity of the ex-governor. Here is what he said: "For over 100 years Kentucky failed to erect any house of reform, but suffered children convicted of crime to be associated in the penitentiary with old and hardened criminals. It remained for a Republican governor to denounce his outrage and urge the building of such an institution—and this was accomplished during his administration." The new constitution of Kentucky was adopted in 1891, and here is Section 253: "It shall be the duty of the general assembly to provide by law, as soon as practicable, for the establishment and maintenance of an institution for the instruction and reformation of all persons under the age of eighteen years, convicted of such felonies and such misdemeanors as may be designated by law. Said institution shall be known as the House of Reform." The Democratic general assembly of 1898, when I was speaker of the house of representatives, passed this law providing for the establishment of the House of Reform. The Republican general assembly of 1896-97 had nothing to do with it. It is evident, therefore, that his statement which I have quoted is not only in conflict with the truth, but with the constitution and laws of the commonwealth.

Willful Misrepresentation.

I shall refer to another deliberate and willful misrepresentation of his in which he states that I had held the Republican administration responsible for the entire $1,000,000 of bonded indebtedness which we found against the state in February, 1900. I did nothing of the kind, for in my opening speech, and others, I have stated that when the Republican administration borrowed $500,000 they thereby "doubled the bonded debt of the state," which was a statement to any sensible man means that there was already a bonded debt of $500,000 when the Republicans doubled it.

Governor Bradley read my opening speech, as his speech shows, and said that I expressed it in that way. He charges that we have been collecting more taxes from the railroads than he did while he was governor. That is true, and he is glad that he has called attention to it. He says that under his administration the franchise valuation placed on the railroads for taxation was an average of $11,329,349.00, while under the Democratic administration the average has been $12,921,478. No one has complained that we have made the railroads pay exorbitant taxes, for they have prospered more than ever before under Democratic administration, but we have compelled them to pay upon a fair valuation of their property. From his figures it appears that we have doubled the valuation upon them since his administration. The tax at 50 cents on this difference would be $57,969, which multiplied by 8 gives $463,680 more collected in taxes from this one source in the eight years of our administration than would have been collected under the valuation of the Republican administration. That increase alone is enough to pay for one-third of the cost of our new capitol. This is one of the things which goes to explain how the Democrats with a less tax rate than the Republicans have been able to do so much for the upbuilding of the state institutions. The records show that in 1899, the last year of Republican administration, there were only seven railroads assessed in the state for taxation, while in 1906, under Democratic administration, there were nineteen railroads assessed for taxation. There has been much development of railroad business in the state under Democratic administration, and some few lines built, but not enough to make up the wide difference between 7 and 19.

The Democratic general assembly of 1898 passed the McCreary railroad tax bill, a measure of vast interest to our people, but Governor Bradley vetoed that measure and delayed its passage until 1900, when I became governor and signed it. Under that law our people have been saved thousands and tens of thousands of dollars from extortionate charges and discriminations by the railroad companies. It is not surprising, therefore, that the Republican governor who vetoed that measure could find only seven railroad corporations in the state to tax. The Democratic administration has been fair and reasonable to the railroads, and encouraged their progress and development in the state, but it has also insisted that they shall bear their just portion of taxation and be fair and reasonable in their dealings with the people.

The Cause of Education.

Governor Bradley says nothing at all about the schools and the cause of education because he knows that nothing was done for them during his and Taylor's administrations. He knows the vast good done for them under Democratic administration, and therefore ignores the subject. He does not even attempt to explain the flagrant action of his administration in the year 1899 in padding the school fund and increasing the school per capita to $2.70 for its effect upon the campaign of that year. Nor does he answer the charge that this inexcusable attempt for campaign material caused a deficit the following year of $147,000 in the school fund, which the Democratic administration had to make good, and caused the per capita that year to fall to $2.45. The Democratic administration has raised it from $2.45 to $2.46. It has increased the school term from five months to six months of free tuition throughout the commonwealth. It has established two normal schools for our teachers. It has given generously to the State College and to the State Colored Normal School. It has passed the school-book bill in the face of his and his party's opposition, that gives to the school children of the state their school books at one-third less than they formerly paid. In the face of Republican promises, which can never be relied upon, it presents facts like these.

He complains that we have no platform. The record of the Democratic administration is a sufficient platform, and the people consider it far preferable to the vain promises in the Republican platform. Their experience with the Bradley and Taylor administrations has taught them that Republican platform promises are not worth the paper they are written on.

By a jugglery of figures he tries to show that the cost of public printing under his administration was less than it has been under Democratic administration. He states what the records prove to be untrue, for those records show that under Democratic administration there has been a much greater amount of public printing done than under the Republican administration and at $2,567.51 less cost per year.

He also says, and I quote his words: "Why did the party they claim to represent decline to make an appropriation to advance the interest of Kentucky at St. Louis and Jamestown

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." Thats the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and thas same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, shy children too, are greatly strengthened by them. exposition? Why did they leave the state they loved in the humiliating attitude of having no building? On the other hand I ask why does the ex-governor in such a question, state a proposition which he knows to be untrue? This administration did make an appropriation in the general assembly of 1904 of $75,000 for an exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, and everybody knows, who visited that exposition, that Kentucky was one of the best represented states there.

Brazen Distortion of Facts.

It is impossible, with the limitations of time upon this address to recite all the bare-faced and brazen distortions of facts and perversions of figures in that remarkable speech of his. It is without a parallel for inaccuracy, misrepresentation and deception.

Long as it is that speech there is a conspicuous absence of any reference to the collection of the civil war claims by Capt. Calhoun. Why has the distinguished ex-governor nothing to say about that important matter which came up in his administration, and also in mine? His associate candidates have tried to make some capital out of the fee paid Capt. Calhoun for that work. The amount collected was $1,324,000, and Capt. Calhoun's fee was a little over $71,000, or a fraction more than 5 per cent, the lowest fee paid by any state in the Union for similar collections. Gov. Bradley knew of the existence of this claim because he approved vouchers for $275.90 for expenses for having it investigated. In a letter signed by his assistant adjutant-general, whom he appointed, that official says: "I will state that in the year of 1836 I learned of the decision in the New York case, and I at once set about to enforce the collection of the claim of Kentucky and for the purpose went to Washington in January, 1837, and collected data and decisions which convinced me that Kentucky could recover something near one hundred thousand dollars. I came back to Frankfort and laid the whole matter before the governor and it seemed little faith was placed by the state administration in the success of prosecuting the claim and the governor and auditor decided that they would not advance expenses, etc., and the matter was dropped as I did not feel justified in advancing my own money. I had no doubt if I had done so I could have received a contingent fee of 25 per cent if I had taken the risk of collections."

If such a contract had been made by Gov. Bradley and the same amount had been collected then the fee for its collection would have been $330,000 instead of $71,000. But nothing further was done by that administration toward the collection of this money, and when I came into office I employed Capt. Calhoun to collect it. After that employment the distinguished ex-governor who had failed in his duty in the matter as governor sought to get employment with Capt. Calhoun and secure a part of the fee. He wrote the following letter to Calhoun:

"February 19th, 1902

"Dear Captain:—I notice that a bill has been passed authorizing the employment of counsel in collection of Kentucky war claim. "I write merely to suggest that I might be of some assistance and will thank you if you see fit to make some suggestions concerning the matter. Your friend, (Signed) "W. O. BRADLEY."

Facts Speak for Themselves. These facts speak for themselves, and it is not necessary to aid anyone in forming a sensible conclusion about them. After his dereliction of duty as governor in regard to this important matter he sought to make amends by an attempt to divide the fee for collection with Capt. Calhoun. And yet he boasts of the "many worthy things" and the "splendid financial achievements" of his administration! He undertakes to justify his action in the election of 1899—his use of the military then, and at other times—but history has stamped with its vigorous disapproval those acts of his and his usurpations of power. No excuse whatever can be given for what he did, and time cannot wipe out the disgraceful blot of his unwarranted action in those matters. He says that Goebel and the Democratic ticket were not elected. "The central essence" of the state said that they were. The courts, from the circuit court of the state to the supreme court of the United States vindicated that decision of the general assembly. In the election of 1900, when I was the candidate of the Democratic party to fill out Gov. Goebel's unexpired term, the Republicans made that question an issue in the campaign. They had a corruption fund, furnished by the National Republican Committee, of $207,000 to defeat the Democratic ticket, and yet the people in that election indorsed the decision of their general assembly by electing me with nearly 4,500 majority. They further indorsed that action in the election of 1903 by electing our state ticket with nearly 27,000 majority. That question has been settled by every possible earthly tribunal, settled in every instance in our favor. He has the hardihood to boast of his action in using the militia at the polls in 1899, and yet he could not spend his remaining years with better grace than in the continual effort to apologize to the people for that crime against free elections, and that blow at civil liberty. He spoils his argument by undertaking to refer to the election of 1905 in the city of Louisville, which was declared void by the court of appeals last spring. The history of that case shows that remedies for fraudulent elections may be found in our courts, and not by the use of military at the polls. His reference to that case was most unfortunate for there it was shown that a Democratic court would remedy such evils even where Democratic officials should lose their place, and in the opinion of the court in that case it was held that the use of military at the polls would invalidate an election.

His attempt to make fun of the election in 'the Bally's Mill precinct in Franklin county, where it is claimed there were 107 votes fraudulently counted for the Democratic tickets amounts to little. The Democratic party condemns fraud in elections, and when this matter was brought to light a Democratic court and a Democratic grand jury promptly indicted the guilty parties.

One fraud does not justify another, and yet it would be possible, if worth while, to show in that same election where far greater frauds, especially in some of the Republican counties, were committed against the Democratic ticket.

Might Have Averted Calamity.

When he undertakes to repudiate Taylor and his administration we confront him with his own bad record at that time. No man in Frankfort during those dark days did more to stir up the angry passions of the mob and bring about lawlessness and crime than did Governor Bradley, the friend and attorney of Taylor, in his violent and inflammatory utterances. In his sworn testimony as a witness in one of the Goebel assassination cases he admitted that he had been informed several times of the plot to murder William Goebel, and yet, although Goebel had once signally befriended him, he failed to go and warn him of his danger. He cannot excuse his failure to do so by saying that two or three of the fellows who were in the plot came and told him there was nothing in it. He cannot excuse it now by announcing that assassination as an infamous outrage. With the information which he received, and which subsequent developments have shown to be correct, he might have averted the calamity and saved the life of the man who had once done him such a great favor. He was in the convention, his friend, Mr. Willson, and other Republican candidates were in that same Republican convention which indorsed, without reserve the resolute and patriotic conduct of W. S. Taylor."

He bewails the fact that Democratic leaders in this campaign refer to all to the events of that dark and bloody period. We Democrats regret that it is necessary to refer to them, but we would be recreant to our duty to the people if we failed to call attention to these matters that happened less than eight years ago, and which illustrate, more than words can picture, the character and results of Republican administration in this state. I state a fact that every citizen knows to be true, that the period from December, 1895, when Bradley became governor, to February, 1900, when Taylor was unseated, was the blackest and gloomiest in the history of the state, with the possible exception of the Civil War. The record of that administration is as barren as a desert. There was not a single good deed in it, nor a single event that marked advancement and progress for our people. From the gloom of such a bloody period, it is natural that these Republican candidates should turn in dismay and seek, by a resurrection of exploded slanders, forgeries and falsehoods, to mislead the minds of the people, and prevent them from considering the real issues of the campaign. If time would permit me I could show in many instances where the candidates of the Republican state ticket, including Mr. Willson, have perjured the several policy as Governor Bradley did in this speech, and have deliberately misrepresented the facts and stated things which they knew to be untrue. In my campaign from one end of the state to the other I have been assailed at the extent to which some of these men have gone in their perversion of facts.

The Temperance Question. Governor Bradley in his speech tries to belittle the temperance question in this contest, and says "probably the people at large would have more confidence in the professions of Beckham and Hager if they could show any act in favor of temperance during their official career." That means that the ex-governor states that nothing has been done for the temperance cause during this administration. The record of the laws passed and enforced by us is a complete refutation of this statement. There is no fair-minded, non-partisan temperance advocate in Kentucky who does not say that under this administration, and with its assistance Kentucky has obtained some of the wisest and best temperance laws that can be found in any state in the Union. These facts are so well known to our people that it is unnecessary to adduce further proof to show the falsity of his statement. Judge Hager and the Democratic candidates can point to the record of the Democratic administration upon this question as a guarantee of their sincerity and position on it. There is nothing plainer in this campaign than the effort of Mr. Willson to dodge, or straddle, the question. They cannot attack our position by the use of slander and calumny. The bitterness and unfairness of the distinguished ex-governor toward us can be accounted for to some extent by the fact that much of this temperance legislation which we have passed is distasteful to some of his best clients. Consequently, when he discusses this issue in the campaign we are unable to tell whether he is most representing these clients or the Republican ticket. But he should not allow his earnestness as an attorney to cause him to lose his temper and provoke him to make such vicious and unwarranted attacks upon us. The Democratic party has no apologies to make for its record upon this question, and confidently trusts that the people of the state will not be misled by the character of campaign waged upon its candidacy by Governor Bradley and his satellites.

The issue is so clear that those who run may read. It is a choice between the policies of the Bradley-Taylor administration, for which Mr. Willson stands, and the policies of the Democratic administration represented by Judge Hager and his ticket. No sensible, patriotic or intelligent citizen can hesitate in such a choice. The campaign is not over. The more I have been in every part of the state, and it is my candid opinion from what I have seen and heard that the Democratic ticket will, Nov. 5, be elected by an overwhelming majority. The people of Kentucky love fair play and condemn hypocrisy. They are determined that a ticket like the Republican ticket, which bases its campaign upon falsehood and deception, shall not succeed in this glorious old commonwealth.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Shack's Mill, Va., October 18.
Dear News:-

After spending the last few weeks shifting from place to place, and in a section where Kentucky papers fail to circulate, I have not been in close touch with the happenings in that section. Only about once a week I have been able to get the current news from the events which appeal to all who love our State and pride in its progressive features. It was my pleasure to get the Times this morning, which gave a cherry account of the political situation, and pointed to an old time Democratic victory. It also announced the fact that Mr. L. C. Winfrey of our town, was the Democratic nominee to represent Adair and Cumberland counties in the next Legislature. This was a splendid bit of news to me, for under present circumstances I have never felt that we, as Democrats, should make an unconditional surrender. Within the two counties, and within the two parties, I doubt whether a better man could have been selected, and if successful in the final contest, will make a representative of which we will all feel proud. Intelligent, progressive and with a full knowledge of the laws, he will measure up to the full demand of our section. To fail to elect him will be a great mistake. Again, I find the Post overflowing with hopeful predictions for the Republicans, but I have not been worrying over the present campaign, nor feeling the least uneasiness about the result. Outside of Louisville in the country, the voters will evidently throw their strength to the party that has so effectively fought the battle for temperance and progressive government. While in the city they may scratch, swap and steal, but not be strong enough to turn the tide or affect the verdict of the honest countrymen. If Mr. Tyler, for Mayor of Louisville, is correctly quoted in the Post, it is my judgment that he should be defeated, and I trust it will happen. There is no ground on which Mr. Tyler can expect the votes of the moral of Louisville since he openly advocates the open saloon on Sunday. He is not in accord with the best people of that city, and out of harmony with the party of which he is a member. It appears to be a fine opportunity for the best people of Louisville to vote the Republican ticket, and for the Democratic State candidates. There should be no compromise with the whisky element in or out of the city. Too much good has already been accomplished to even countenance any man for an important official position who is not in accord with the demands of our party and the people in general. With our candidates for State offices pledged to continue an unceasing warfare on the liquor traffic no man should get Democratic support who seeks to check or overthrow such movements for good.

My trip to Jamestown was one full of pleasure, not alone in "seeing the sights," but in meeting many old friends whose hand-shakes carried me back to school days. The Exposition Grounds are beautiful, and the exhibits well up to the expectation of all the people who visit it. While not so immense as the World's Fair at St. Louis, yet it measures up in point of interest. Hampton Roads, a beautiful stretch of water, giving a charm that no inland country possesses, and carries the mind back to the battle between the ironclads of the two contending forces of the Civil War. This scene is reproduced in one of the shows on the War Path, and every person who visits the Exposition should see the battle between the Merrimac and the Monitor. It is unquestionably the best show on the ground, and worth many times the price of admission.

From Newport News to Richmond, on the C & O road, you pass through Williamsburg, the second capital city of Virginia. It was there that the Colonial Governor held forth after the destruction of Jamestown, and a stop off in that old historic town, now enterprising, would be of much interest to all lovers of history. Richmond, the present Capital, is a thrifty, enterprising city of more than 100,000 inhabitants, and rapidly moving in industrial lines. A few days can be pleasantly and profitably spent in and around that beautiful city—it being in the center of the many battles fought in that section during the "late unpleasantness." The little stone building on Main street, used by George Washington as his headquarters, and by Patrick Henry and others distinguished in the history of our country, still stands, and is well filled with relics of the Revolution and Civil wars. On 25th and Broad Street, the church in which Patrick Henry made his famous speech, remains in a fine state of preservation, and is open to visitors all the time. It was built in 1741, and made of heavy pine timber. The entire plot of ground around it was used for a burying ground, and all the space was taken even to within a foot of the building.

Many historical places within a short distance of Richmond can be reached by electric lines, and many old soldiers from the North and West who participated in the stirring events of those battles, are taking in the Exposition, and going over the battle fields near Richmond.

There is scarcely any part of the country so closely connected with the entire land, historically, as the old part of the Old Dominion, the birthplace of American Independence, the battlefield of two wars, the triumphs of the Colonial troops at Yorktown, and the overthrow of the Southern Confederacy at Appomattox. Combining the low rates now offered by the various transportation companies, the magnificent exhibits at the Exposition and the pleasure in visiting the seashore and the historic part of our great country, every person who can, ought to make the trip. It is a chance to kill two or more birds with one stone, so to speak, and find great pleasure and profit in so doing. C. S. H.

A CARD.

To the Voters and Citizens of Russell County:

I have been solicited to make the race for circuit court clerk, for Russell County, by many of my Democratic and Republican friends and have submitted to my name being placed on the Democratic ticket by petition, and owing to my misfortune as to being a cripple for life and being unable to make a living and support by hard labor, I therefore, submit my candidacy to the voters of Russell County. I am a poor boy, my father died when I was quite young and I have no one to assist me in making a support, and owing to my misfortune of being a cripple, I trust that the voters of this county will do me the favor to elect me to said office, and if I am elected, I am sure that I will conduct myself as an official, that no one will ever have cause to regret voting for me.

Yours Very Respectfully,
Edgar Johnson.

The voters of Adair county should remember that Hon. C. C. McChord is a candidate for re-election to the office of Railroad Commissioner. He has made a most excellent official and should receive a large vote in the section of the State.

Ex-Congressman W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, spoke in the interest of the Democratic State ticket at the court-house here last Tuesday afternoon. Only a small crowd heard him, as the farmers were busy cutting corn and sowing wheat. Those who were present said that it was the best speech delivered here since campaign opened. Congressman Stone does not deal in abusive language, confining himself to the issues in present campaign. He showed clearly that the affairs of the state government under Beckham had been economically managed, and that when he turns over his office to his successor, the State will be out of debt. After the speaking was over he was asked if he knew any ex-confederate soldiers who would vote for Wilson. He answered that he had canvassed about one half of Kentucky and that he had found three who say they are going to vote the Republican ticket, but they may not do it. He further stated that Willson's claim that 80 per cent of the old Confederates would vote for him was all bosh. They will stamp under the rooster almost to a man.

Name a reason why Hager should not defeat Wilson by a very large majority. The State is out of debt, a magnificent Capitol has been built, without levying an extra tax, all the public institutions have been improved and the school per capita larger than it has ever been, peace and happiness reigns around every fireside, and when the present Governor turns over the affairs of the State to Mr. Hager he will leave over a million dollars in the treasury. Why the necessity for a change? These can be none, and the voters of the State will so say on the 5th of November.

When ever you hear a man say that he is a Democrat or that he is a Republican, but that he will not vote for his party because he does not like a certain man on the ticket, you can set it down, and it will be correct, that the man who thus speaks does not know the principles of the party to which he claims to belong. Men of sense vote for principles, not for men.

It is reported here that stock sufficient to start a new paper at Campbellsville has been raised. It is said that Mr. Rufus Matthews, the editor and proprietor of the Enquirer, will go with the new Company, putting in his plant for a certain sum of money. If it is a go it will be some time before the paper makes its appearance, as the company will have to build an office.

Eld. W. K. Azbill states his position clearly on the tariff question in this issue. He is in favor of a revision and cites where the present tariff is oppressive to the poor in foreign countries, and states that in instances it works the same way in this country.

The explosion of the plant of the Dupont Powder Company at Fontanet, Ind, last Wednesday destroyed the town, killed about forty persons and injured six hundred. Without warning the powder mills, seven in number, blew up.

How many States are there in the Union that are in as good fix as Kentucky? Count and see how many you can name that are out of debt with money in treasury. You can name them all by counting the fingers on one hand.

Every property holder in Adair and Cumberland should go to the election and vote for Hon. L. C. Winfrey for Representative.

Hon. L. C. Winfrey is a gentleman of ability and would make a creditable Representative. Vote for him.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Sarah Phoebe Foley, wife of Anderson Foley, and daughter of Rev. Moses Foley, Marv Margaret Foley, died June 30th, 07. She was 46 years, 5 months and 25 days old.

She professed religion when young and joined the Baptist church and lived a faithful Christian until death.

Every thing was done during her sickness that loving hands could do, but God sent his angels to wait her spirit to Himself, that she might live with Him in that mansion He prepared for his children. She leaves a husband, five children, father, mother, two brothers and one sister to mourn their loss, but their loss is their gain.

Hester, Winnie, Ada and Alda were at home, but Ella Shepherd, living in Illinois, was not permitted to be with her in her last hours.

I will just say to all her friends "live as she lived; and meet her in heaven." But these shadows must one day flee away, and as we stand on the arch of Eternity this old world of toil and strife, tears and pains, we will not see the heart beat of saving grace buried in suffering humanity, but lying there in the bosom of the Saviour will see the complete ring of full salvation, "Wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, and redemption." There in the transcendent light of our Father's throne we will meet our loved one again.

Her funeral services were conducted by Bro. Barger, of Esto, after which her remains were interred in the Russell Springs Cemetery to await the resurrection. As one who has known her from childhood I cannot say too much in regard to her loving disposition. She was kind and obedient to her parents and a loving wife and mother. It is hard for me to realize she is gone and that I will get no more encouraging letters from her. Her prayer was that her husband and children would live for God and his cause and meet her in heaven.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, and out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence Guaranteed by T. E. Paul, Druggist. 25c.

OBITUARY.

Hope is the bright star that illumines our life. It is the ray of light that leads us on and without it our life would be darkness. Hope is that element of mind that ever keeps us reaching out and up for brighter, better and more abiding life; it is that which keeps us from despair, like a guardian angel, ever whispering of better things and greater joy.

Hope is one of the sweetest things in the world, making the life so sunny and bright, and when rightly directed it becomes a great power for good, for it is contagious, and when it enters a sick room or comes in contact with a sorrowing heart or a mind despairing and fearful, it is a burden lifter, for burdens are but shadows cast like a cloud over the mind, and hope is sunshine—blessed invigations rays, many a life has been transformed by the entrance of hope. Open your mind to its sweet uplifting influence. Welcome it with love and it will come and fill your heart, it will make your very presence to radiate blessings to all, without any effort on your part, and the greatest good is done when there is least effort, but because the heart is overflowing with truth and love.

The greatest hope in the world is for Christ-life to be revealed in us. This is to be so free from the lower self that the highest may be revealed. We can at least have this for our ideal, through it may seem a long way off, still it is not so very far from earth to heaven. "The pure in heart see God;" heaven is a pure consciousness—a beholding all things good, it is a new consciousness of life, that is ours after the carnal mind is gone; it the Christ mind, and in it all hopes are attained for it is the finding of the kingdom of heaven within. If this one hope should become the all-absorbing hope of your life you would not find it so very far to heaven, to that inward place and unity with the Spirit of life and love and truth.

Thomas A. Edison the great American inventor, says "Fully eighty per cent of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over-indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds its beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it or when you eat the wrong kind of food, the digestive organs cannot possibly do the work demanded of them, it is at such times that the stomach needs help and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by Page & Dohoney.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrhs of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membrane lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:—
"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

KELLER INDIAN TERRITORY.

Editor News:

Great interest is now being manifested in our baby State, and perhaps it might be of interest to some of your readers for me to outline some of the causes.
Crop conditions are all that could be desired with the exception of cotton, which was damaged by worms, but the high price being paid will more than make up the deficit; another, and the most important, is, we are just through with the most strenuous campaign ever known to our citizenship, and one that will go down in history as unique, and without a parallel. In June 1906 the Congress of the United States passed what is known as the enabling act giving the people of Okla. and Ind. Ter. power to elect delegates to a Constitutional Convention. Said Convention was given power to draft a Constitution which, after being referred to the people, if ratified by them should then be sent to the President of the United States, who had, according to the terms of the enabling act, twenty days to approve or reject it. The result of this election was the greatest surprise to both Democrats and Republicans in all political history, it being conceded by both parties prior to the election that it would be close between Democrats and Republicans. But out of 112 delegates, 99 were Democrats, 1 Independent and 11 Republicans, consequently the organic law of this new State is Democratic and contains all the modern Democratic reform theories, the most conspicuous being the Initiative and the Referendum. It provides for compulsory education; it prohibits the suspension at any time, of the Writ of Habeas Corpus; it provides for separate schools for negroes and whites; places the civil law at all times above the military; provides that two-thirds of a jury may find bills or convict except in murder cases; restrict the granting of franchises for a longer period than twenty-five years; provides ample laws to protect the people against the greed and avarice of corporations, but offers ample encouragement for legitimate capital; prohibits the ownership of land by other than residents of the State, also for State-wide prohibition.

The people ratified the Constitution by a majority of over 80-000. Notwithstanding the Republicans fought it to the bitter end, the State went Democratic by 40,000. Four Democratic Congressmen out of five were elected, the one lone Republican being elected by a majority of only 400. T. P. Gore, the famous blind orator, and R. L. Owen, an Indian, will go to the United States Senate. We as Democrats think all the new and untried provisions in our Constitution are all right, but if not we have ample provisions by which it can at any time be changed when found necessary. The President assures us that he will sign our Constitution and issue his proclamation in due time.
Then will be admitted one of the most fertile of all the States, and will liberate from the bonds of carpet-bag-government, one million four hundred and fourteen thousand people.

WITH OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Week's happenings—News Important or Otherwise as Reported By Our Corps of Correspondents.

GRADYVILLE.

Only a few days before the election, every thing expected to go one way, that is Democratic. We are needing rain at this town.

Our farmers are sowing large crops of wheat this fall.

Dr. L. C. Nell and daughter spent last Saturday and Sunday in Edmontson.

Our corn crop is fairly good this season.

Judge Smith, of Tompkinsville, stopped over for night at the Wilmore house last Monday.

J. H. Smith is having about seventy-five acres sown in wheat this fall.

The Pickett Tobacco ware house people, of Louisville, had a man with our tobacco dealers last week.

Miss Sallie Diddle accompanied by Mrs. Elizabeth Robertson, of Columbia, visited relatives and friends here a few days of last week.

Mrs. Strong Hill has a full line of millinery goods and is enjoying a good trade.

C. O. Moss and wife spent last Wednesday in Columbia.

Geo. W. Spillman and family, are now connected with the outside world by telephone.

John D. Lowe, the noted drummer, Nashville, was with us one day last week.

Miss Cora Dowell, accompanied by Logan Hagan, attended singing at Breeding last Sunday.

Mr. Albert Parson, of Portland, who recently bought one-half interest in the roll mill from J. A. Diddle at this place, has taken charge of the mill. We are glad to have Mr. Parson with us.

The masonic Lodge was largely attended here, last Saturday, dinner served on the ground, work in two degrees.

Mr. Clarence Wilson, the efficient salesman, for Nim Roach, of this section, was in our midst last Saturday and informed us they were having a good trade.

Dr. Thompson, of Hart county, was in our midst one day last week.

Mr. J. A. Diddle and son, Will, attended the singing at Breeding last Sunday.

Mr. C. S. Bell, of this place, was on the sick list a few days of last week.

Mr. Silas Cain, who recently bought the large farm of Hughes and Coffey, near this place, has moved. We are certainly glad to have them with us.

Mr. Geo. W. Spillman and family, who have been living in this community for several years, we are glad to note have moved to the property of J. A. Diddle near town.

Mrs. Sallie Wilmore, visited her relatives near Bliss, two days last week.

Mrs. Thomas J. Keltner of Kemp, spent a few day visiting relatives here last week.

Mr. Thos. Dowell is on the market for a few extra crops of tobacco to go with his own production.

We will soon need the bridge that the money was subscribed to build across Big Creek, over a year ago as you know. The bridge that spanned the creek here in town was washed off during the flood and our people that travel by foot have no way crossing the creek when the water is up. We hope the committee that has this matter in charge will look after this at once.

Several from our town spent the Sunday with Mr. J. M. Wilson and his estimable sister a few Sundays ago. The day was pleasantly spent and especially the good dinner that was prepared for the occasion. We all know that has any acquaintance with old bachelor, John Milt, that the latch string is on the outside of the door, whoever pulls it is welcome.

HATCHER.

Real estate of all kinds has advanced nearly 100 per cent in this county within the last five years. Several pieces of real estate sold in Campbellsville last Monday at enormous prices.

Adair county has reason to be proud of her Fiscal court. It is certainly composed of progressive public-spirited men. Their action in giving a lift to the Greensburg pike is commendable, and we hope the pike will be a go. The Court gave the proposed pike to Creelsboro a substantial lift in proposing to take $5,000 stock. It can give this enterprise a much more substantial lift if it will plant along the proposed route a few substantial citizens, public spirited and highminded enough to be above requiring as a condition of their subscriptions for stock, that the pike pass just so close to the door of "him and his wife," and equally close to the door of his "son, John, and his wife," and finally that it dump off at the river at "my boat landing."
